

Syncfusion is the enterprise technology partner for developers on every Microsoft and mobile platform, delivering the broadest range of .NET components and controls as well as world-class solutions. Offering compatibility with all the platforms you need to be competitive, including WinRT, JavaScript, and Windows Phone, Syncfusion is trusted by developers worldwide for use in line-of-business applications.

Syncfusion’s Essential Studio Enterprise Edition provides controls for .NET, enabling developers to create rich applications and integrate mobile development and reporting solutions with ease—even in the most demanding environments. Essential Studio is made up of over 650 unique controls across 12 platforms, including the fastest high-performance grid and chart on the market.

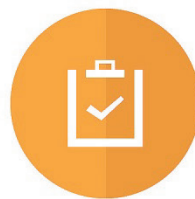

Product Breadth

UI, reporting, and business intelligence on any .NET platform, all from one vendor.

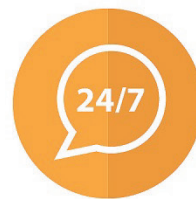

No-Hassle Licensing

No royalties, run-time, or server-deployment fees means no surprises.

Uncompromising Quality

An almost brutal QA process makes our products truly enterprise-quality.

Outstanding Support

Our team is in-house, accessible, and fast. The online forum, Knowledge Base, and Direct-Trac support system provide 24/7 access.
